

Save Time, Save Money, Save Stress

Make Mediation Work for You

Designed to be interactive with audience polling, the conference is focussed on helping you sell the benefits of mediation and facilitation within your organisation. Specifically, we will provide tips on:

- Raising awareness amongst staff of workplace mediation
- Success factors and challenges in both its introduction and its take-up
- Encouraging management participation
- Using workplace mediation as an integral part of your grievance procedure
- Proactively addressing workplace disputes
- The role of mediation in future employment litigation.

Running from 3.15pm to 6.15pm, the conference will share with you important insights into the process of making mediation the default option in workplace and employment disputes. CMC Workplace and Employment group Chair, Caroline Sheridan, is pleased to confirm our high-profile speakers will include:

Sir Alan Ward, Chairman, CMC

Sir Brendan Barber, Chair, Acas

Professor Paul Latreille, Deputy Pro-Vice Chancellor for Learning & Teaching, Sheffield University

Pete Hodgson, Head of Employee Relations, Tesco Stores

Orla Tierney, Head of Employee Relations and Reward Director, BBC

Dr Jurgen Klowitz, Former Counsel, E.ON

David Whincup, Partner, Squire Patton Boggs

Convert or sceptic? This workplace mediation conference is for you. Whether in-house counsel, HR, line management, trade union or work representative, it will show you how to use mediation to get the results which will make your Board sit up and take notice.
